Beartooth Electric to consider bylaw changes

As it has done for other operational issues such as finance and policies, the Beartooth Electric Cooperative (BEC) board is convening a committee to review the BEC Bylaws. The committee will address two articles that were not considered for updates and clarification by last year's bylaw committee whose recommendations were adopted at the September 2011 Annual Meeting. An additional objective for the Bylaw Committee will be to review bylaw support for member rights in areas strongly supported by the current board: transparency, member participation, access to meetings, and disclosure of financial and other information.

The BEC Bylaw Committee will meet on Tuesday, May 1 at 3:00 at the Red Lodge Community Foundation building 24 West Thirteenth Street in Red Lodge. The meeting is open to all BEC members.

Several members have responded to the board's request for committee volunteers. If you are interested in volunteering please call BEC trustee Arleen Boyd (328-6645) or contact BEC (446-2310).
